GRICUA Opens Energy Efficient Building

By Christopher Lomahquahu
Gila River Indian News

Gila River Indian Community Utility Authority opened its new home, offering a glimpse of the future while respecting the past. Before a gathering of elders, tribal representatives and other dignitaries, the GRICUA board of directors and Stephen Roe Lewis, governor-elect, cut the ribbon on the new GRICUA administration building on Dec. 18.

As you take a step into the 7,610 square-foot administration building, you will notice the interior lined with works of art made from Community artists.

Many of the examples are photographs from around the Community, paintings and traditional-contemporary wear contributed by Gila River artists.

The artwork is just half of the features that make the new building unique. From the start of construction to completion, an effort was implemented to make the building more energy efficient.

The GRICUA finance director Arnold Mejia talked about the importance of the building being low energy. "The building process itself was carefully planned to maximize and recover as much recyclable material as possible," he said.

Many of the fixtures and utilities installed use less energy such as the lights, faucets and toilets, which use less water by incorporating motion sensors.

Mejia said the building "features solar panels, which will provide 40 percent of the buildings power throughout the day."

These features are among the several others that have been incorporated into the building for LEED certification. The goal according to Mejia is to receive a Gold or Silver certification.

Within the New Year, GRICUA expects the building to be LEED certified, requiring them to submit an application to the U.S. Green Building Council.

John Lewis, GRICUA Chairman of the Board of Directors, spoke about the importance of the new building and what it represents for the Community.

"It is representative of the direction the Community is going," said Lewis.

"The overarching goal is sustainability, I have to recognize the board, they made the cognitive effort to build in a sustainable manner," said Lewis.

Chairman Lewis also discussed the strong connection between the Community's past and the opportunities for future growth.

It is an extraordinary feat

H.O.P.E. Group Officially Recognized for Contributions to Community

An historical occasion took place within the Governance Center marking the Community's stance on equality. Gila River Governor Gregory Mendoza, before an audience of attendees, signed a resolution titled GR-296-14 and proclamation into affect on Dec. 22.

GR-296-14 is a resolution officially recognizing the group Helping O'odham Promote Equality or "HOPE" for their contributions within the GLBT (Gay, Lesbian, Bi, and Transgender) population of Gila River.

Gov. Mendoza presented a proclamation declaring Dec. 17 "HOPE Day," signifying the Community's commitment to supporting equality.

The proclamation sets aside a day to recognize H.O.P.E. for their work in the Community.

H.O.P.E. is a grass roots organization that has been in existence for three years, made up of volunteer members.

The group is composed of an executive planning committee with a chair, co-chair, and other supporting members, but is open to anyone willing to volunteer.

With the assistance of the Office of General Counsel, a draft of the group's by-laws and a resolution were created. Before the Dec. 17 Community Council meeting a final draft of the resolution was presented and approved by Council.

Before the signing of the documents, Gov. Mendoza commended H.O.P.E. saying, "a group that has worked tirelessly to support those individuals who have come to the crossroads of [their] being."

He said, "When a person recognizes and accepts himself or herself for who they are, there should be the same recognition and acceptance by their community."

Iann Austin, the group's chair, talked about their purpose in the Community, saying, "H.O.P.E.'s goal is to provide a safe and accepting place for any individuals having difficulty while trying to accept themselves and their sexuality."

"We are very proud to come as far as we have. Basically the group came up as a need, to be out there and be seen," said Austin.

The group feels confident they will be able to achieve greater relevancy in the Community. According to Austin, "the resolution and proclamation let us know exactly how much we mean to the Gila River Indian Community."

Ira Hayes families to propose to Community Council to rename Memorial Airfield

To Whom It May Concern:

We would like to bring forth a consensus of the family of the late Ira Hayes to memorialize in his honor by using his name to revitalize the Memorial Airfield. Over the past 30 years there has been no sign of any existence of the Memorial Airfield in which no compensation has ever been received by any of the landowners. Thus, many landowners have since passed away over the past decades and have been left with no financial income for their families. Today we have not seen any sign of lease payments as our ancestors once did. The landowners have decided to take this opportunity along with Skyrunner Properties to again, revitalize the Memorial Airfield to generate revenue not only for the Memorial Airfield landowners but also for the Gila River Indian Community. Skyrunner Properties have proposed an excellent business opportunity that will utilize the existing airfield that has been sitting idle for decades. Over the decades, we have seen economic growth surround the airfield with businesses capitalizing and generating revenue while the landowners sit landlocked with no means of a way to utilize this prime area for sustainability for our children and children's children. This is a great and innovative opportunity for Skyrunner Properties to partner with the Memorial Airfield landowners, the Gila River Indian Community as well as for future generations as we move forward into the 21st century.

Please find the signatures below the kin of the late Ira H. Hayes families who agree to this proposal by proposing to change the original name of Memorial Airfield to Ira H. Hayes Memorial Air.

Dear Parents and Community Members:

It has been a privilege to work with your students at Ira H. Hayes School. Many public schools struggle to continue to offer extra curriculum activities: Art Program, Student Council, Journalism, STEM Club, Science Club, and Agriculture Club due to more educational budget cuts. Therefore, I enjoy taking the time to educate parents and community members about how the Arizona School Tax Credits can impact a school like Ira H. Hayes School.

Your donation can seriously change the overall academic environment in our school campus. As community members we can dictate the outcome of extracurricular programs in your local public school. The programs mentioned above represent a unique culture within our school. We invite parents and community member to tour our school. Walking into Ira H. Hayes High School is like seeing the Grand Canyon for the first time. The experience is unforgettable. Ira H. Hayes High School is like a museum except all the arts and crafts are hand made by our high school students. It takes great leadership to sponsor the Art Program and Mr. Hobson (Art Teacher) has changed the lives of many students by allowing them to express themselves through Art.

We have other upcoming clubs for this spring semester led by Mr. Van Druff (Agriculture) Mrs. Liddell (Science Club), Mr. Buman (STEM), and Mr. Smith (Journalism). Furthermore, the Student Council has become a key ingredient in the month of December. This council has 4 members and they are determined to represent the student body and have an active voice in the school and local communities. Parents and Community Members, I truly believe that when a group of people come together and share the same vision and mission, nothing is impossible.

Sincerely,
Crispin J. Zamudio
Superintendent

*If you have already made your 2014 Arizona School Tax Credit donation, please accept my personal thanks. If you have it on your "to do" list, please remember checks must be postmarked by December 31st.

A'AGA

Something to be told

By Billy Allen

S-keg Vechij Aaidag (Happy New Year). For most Akimel O'otham January is Auppa I'ivakithak Masad (Cottonwood Blooming Month) while our southern cousins, the Tohono O'odham call it Gakimdag Masad (Animals Lose Their Fat Month). Different strokes for different O'otham folks and many of us will join in the American tradition of New Year's resolutions. There will probably be a lot of us vowing to get healthier, to run or walk more.

The Heard Museum recently opened an exhibit, "Beautiful Games," (open until November 2015) featuring 150 works and artifacts showing Native contributions to the sporting world. When the exhibit opened, Royce Manuel demonstrated an O'odham craft which was used for both sport and war: the making of bows and arrows. Arcina Conde demonstrated an O'odham women's game still played today: to:ka. Billy Mills was also present at the showing of "Running Brave", which depicts his win in the 10,000 meter race at the 1964 Olympics.

Some of our creation stories have running and races as key elements. The Pima Indians mentions racing tracks near ruins in Southern Arizona; ancient tracks were also found opposite Sacaton Flats and Casa Blanca. Relay races were popular events with villages challenging each other. Back then being a fast runner was a way for a young boy to gain prestige and power as he grew into manhood. Each village liked to boast they had the best runners. Runners toed the line, listened for the O'odham word, "to wai!" and the race was on.

On GRIC, there are a couple of competitive runners—no longer boys—racing into their sixties! Gary Johnson of Good-year Village (Valin Thak) was a Chandler High School distance runner in the mid-1960's. After graduation he ran for Phoenix College, but a draft notice took him to the Army for two years. After the service, Mr. Johnson went to work as a standing forklift operator for Bashas'. Years of pounding took a toll on his knees, and arthritis forced Mr. Johnson to take pain medication. Later, Mr. Johnson began helping the to:ka team in Santan and started jogging after practice. Jogging was good medicine—his knees felt better. Today a twenty mile training run does not scare him or his knees. In 2005, with the help of the Wellness Center, he entered his first P.F. Chang's marathon. On January 18, 2015, he will toe the line for his 11th marathon in this series.

Erwin Thomas of Casa Blanca (Vah Ki) began his running career at Phoenix Indian School in the late 1960's. A 1986 Gila River Indian News article lists Mr. Thomas as the 6 mile winner for the 30 age group. His competitive spirit has not diminished— he's now a force in the 60+ age group. Mr. Thomas estimates he has run in over 24 marathons (26.1 miles), and 35 half-marathons (13.1miles). In a calendar year, he usually runs the Fiesta Bowl, Shiprock, and Page marathons. He has not missed the Tohono O'odham half-marathon and is currently gearing up for that race in mid-January. In last year's Mul-Chu-Tha's 13.1 mile race, he was only 5 minutes behind a 3 person team winning the relay division! Mr. Thomas has run races of all lengths—from the 3 mile, forty times, to a 50K (31 miles) which he ran twice!

So, which district--- 4 (Johnson) or 5 (Thomas) has the best runner? Those of you who attend the races and go home with a brand new T-shirt can tell you that these two are good friends who've shared many a mile together. What a great way to run into a New Year.

2015 Department of Environmental Quality Winter Bird Count

Started in 1998, the Winter Bird Count is an annual event sponsored by the GRIC Department of Environmental Quality in partnership with the HuHugam Heritage Center. The event promotes cultural, educational and environmental awareness within the Community and gives participants a chance to observe birds in an undisturbed, natural setting. This special event will take place on Saturday, February 7th (please see flyer for additional information) and features local and wintering bird species that call the Community home. Knowledgeable members of the Audubon Society accompany participants and DEQ staff to provide expert information on species and bird behavior. During the 2013 Bird Count, a total of 20,422 birds comprised of 77 species were counted at 5 sites across the Community.

The Winter Bird Count brings together the Community to share and celebrate our cultural relationship with birds in our homeland. At the conclusion of field activities, participants are invited to the HuHugam Heritage Center to experience enriching bird songs, dances, and stories shared by knowledgeable cultural leaders of the Community. The Winter Bird Count continues to be a rewarding experience for all who participate.

GRICUA Grand Opening

Lt. Gov. Stephen Roe Lewis (center) and GRICUA board members (L to R) Pamela Thompson, John Lewis, Neil Banketewa, Belinda Nelson and Althea Walker (off camera) cut the ribbon on the new GRICUA facility Dec. 18.

looking back at the past 30 years, originating from the Community's idea to establish a utility authority that would serve its members.

Lenny Gold, the GRICUA general manager, reminisced to when their first customer was the Gila River Casinos. The start came from a contract of self-determination with the San Carlos Irrigation Project (SCIP) establishing their own entity and their own line crew.

"We've grown to the point now that our crews operate and maintain all of the electric facilities in the Community that are owned and operated by SCIP in addition to our own," said Gold.

Many of the accomplishments were accredited to the past board of directors and general managers for their contributions throughout the history of GRICUA.

"I think it was very important for us to build our building that is representative of our past," said Lewis.

Lt. Gov. Lewis was impressed by the details of the building, "how we bring our creativity out and combine that with the technology we need to run and to provide important energy needs for our Community as we grow."

He affirmed the Community's position to be a leader in renewable energy, referring to the buildings use of solar energy.

"Hopefully this will be the model for which we build all the rest of our building's within the Community that they are built in a sustainable way," said Lt. Gov. Lewis, advocating for the use of greener technologies.

Gold in closing said, "This building is a testament to the strength and will of the staff at GRICUA. It is a bridge to the past, present and future."

UMA Elects New Leadership

Submitted by Willetta Felder President of the Urban Members Association

My fellow tribal members, the Urban Members Association (UMA) would like to take this opportunity to communicate to you our mission and vision. The UMA was established by resolution GR-84-99 more than 15 years ago. The resolution was intended to create a liaison between the Gila River Indian Community and the tribal members that reside off-reservation. The Community Council understood the importance of keeping all members informed of issues in health, education, enrollment and tribal government. The Community Council empowered the UMA with the responsibility of organizing and managing the association through its executive directors and advisory committee.

Today, the new Urban Members Association has a new chairperson, directors and advisory committee members: Willetta Felder, chairperson; Candace Johnson, co-chair; Denise Cupis, treasurer; Dan Sneed, secretary; Roland Blackwater, Sgt-Arms; Floyd Johnson, advisory member; Ray James, advisory member; Corrina Pino, advisory member; and Della Pena, advisory member.

Chair Felder, says our first order of business is to inform the urban members and community members of how the UMA intends to solve the issues at hand. Article XV, section 1 (a) (15) of the Constitution and Bylaws of the Community directs the UMA to organize and effectively meet the needs of the enrolled tribal members residing off of the Gila River Indian Community.

“It saddens me when I hear negative comments from those uninformed to our constitutional responsibilities to the urban members. The UMA is not an organization that wants to be viewed as not having purpose and vision.

There is a large number of urban members that work within the Community.

When the UMA first started 15 years ago, growing our membership was a challenge; the UMA membership was around 20 headcount. Now, through social media, smartphones apps and internet technologies, the UMA numbers have increased exponentially. Chair Felder, estimates that by 2016 UMA membership could reach over 4,700 of the reported 8,000 off-reservation members who are of tribal voting age.

That’s very significant when compared to the recent election vote count, which was under 2,000 members,” says Chairwoman Felder. “It will be very interesting to see how these new members weigh in through absentee ballots in upcoming issues within our tribal government.

We have taken a proactive stance on creating our own 501(c) (3) non-profit organization to help support our members and minimize our budget needs on the Community. We look forward to working with leadership to build a better relationship and bridging the gap between on-reservation and off-reservation members.”

On behalf of the Urban Members Association, thank you.

Chairwoman Willetta Felder
